In a Balloon Looking Into the Forts.

Scouts Among the Clouds Examining the Defenses of Santiago.

New York, July 1.—(Special.)—A Spanish correspondent cables the Journal from Santiago this morning:

Four American warships bombarded Manzanillo yesterday and did much damage to the batteries. The Spanish replied compelling the Americans to retire, one ship being disabled. It is believed that the Americans, learning that Gen. Pando had left, hoped to land enough men to take Manzanillo.

The Americans are using a captive balloon to ascertain the nature of the fortifications in and around Santiago.

Profiting by Delay—Span-

ish Fortifying Still More.

Key West, July 1.—(Special.)—Word from the Havana blockade is to the effect that the work on the fortifications is being rushed. Workmen can be seen throwing up sand batteries and mountain guns. A large blockhouse has been built at Cabanas and others are being built at Mariel. Batteries west of Havana will not allow ships to come within range. They have fired over 100 shells at our ships within the last ten days, but none did any damage.

Powder Can in Coal.

Work of a Spanish Spy.

Chester, Pa., July 1.—(Special.)—A can of powder weighing seven and one-half pounds was found in a consignment of coal supposed to have been placed there by a Spanish spy with the intention of blowing up American warships coaling from the supplies here.

Too Good to Be True.

Carranza May Be a Captive.

Washington, July 1.—(Special.)—It is believed in some circles that Carranza, Spain's chief spy, may now be a prisoner in the hands of the United States Secret Service.

Are Ready to Surrender

Citizens of Santiago de Cuba.

Chicago, July 1.—(Special.)—A Record special says: It may not be necessary to bombard Santiago. Refugees report that citizens desire to surrender the city, if an opportunity be given them to capitate before artillery is used.

Movement Planned for Yesterday.

Gen. Shafter May Have Attacked.

Siboney, Cuba, July 1.—(Special.)—It was reported yesterday that Gen. Shafter intended to make a demonstration against the Spanish position west of San Juan, Cuba, yesterday afternoon.

Transports Not Heard From.

Still Overdue at Manila.

Hong Kong, July 1.—(Special.)—A Japanese cruiser that arrived to-day reports that the American transports had not arrived at Manila June 27th.

Reported via Madrid.

Another Spanish Victory.

Madrid, July 1.—(Special.)—An impartial dispatch from Santiago says this morning a party of American foragers fell into an ambush. One man was killed.

In the bombardment of Manzanillo, one American ship was disabled and one Spanish private wounded.

LAND AND SEA.

SHAFTER'S PLANS.

Will Surround Santiago Before He Strikes.

Gen. Linars Will be Cut Off from Retreat and Will be Captured.

Baigaini, Cuba, July 1.—(Special.)—When Maj. Gen. Shafter gives the signal the American troops will rush upon Santiago from the northwest, the northeast, the east and the southeast—on every side except where the water of the bay cuts off retreat.

Steadily and—considering the difficulties encountered—with remarkable rapidity the American troops have been moved to their positions, and at last Maj. Gen. Shafter's disposition of his army becomes clear. When the last regiment gets into place, which has probably occurred by this time, the Spaniards in Santiago will be surrounded by an impenetrable wall of Americans and Cubans stretching from northwest around the city and south to Morro Castle. The extreme right of the American line is held by Gen. Kent. Gen. Garcia is with him. Wednesday evening there were, at El Caney, five miles northeast of Santiago, and still pushing to the west. As they move forward Gen. Wheeler closes up behind them, and fresh troops coming up from Sevilla, fill up the gap behind Wheeler, while other troops stretch out to the left toward Morro.

The roads have been greatly improved and the artillery is coming up at a better rate, but no siege guns had been mounted up to Wednesday evening.

Gen. Shafter has informed the War Department that he will attack as soon as he completes his preparations, and that "re-enforcements will not reach him in time."

She Is Now Mrs. Ellis.

Lexington, Ky., July 1.—Miss Harriet Bainbridge Richardson, who did not christen the battleship Kentucky, and who raised such a storm about the ears of Secretary Long because he appointed Gov. Bradley's daughter sponsor for the ship, was married yesterday to James Tandy Ellis, the young Kentucky poet, a former suitor, who defended her in her course regarding to christening the big battleship.

The marriage ceremony took place at the home of her sister, Mrs. Innes, South Limestone, and was performed by Dean Lewis, of Christ Church Cathedral. They left at 11 o'clock for an Eastern bridal trip. The wedding was a quiet affair, only relatives and close friends being present.

An Opinion From Paris.

London, July 1.—(Special.)—The Mail's Paris correspondent says a member of the cabinet has expressed the opinion that Spain cannot resist much longer.

Nine Persons Drowned.

New Orleans, July 1.—(Special.)—Nine persons were drowned near White Castle yesterday.

The Opening Ball To-Night.

The opening ball at Cerulean Springs will be held to-night and Hopkinsville will be well represented.

Great Battle Raging in Cuba Since 7 O'clock To-day.

CHASE CAMARA.

That Seems to be the Latest Plan For Watson.

The Spanish Fleet Without Coal and Uncle Sam Bulling the Market Along His Route.

New York, July 1.—(Special.)—The Herald says Commodore Watson will leave under orders to pursue Camara's squadron if it takes him to Manila. His vessels must be captured or destroyed. As the original plan was to harass the Spanish coast towns, this appears to be a change of purpose. Camara is still at Port Said unable to get coal.

Two colliers, said to be British, loaded deep with fuel, had been engaged to meet the Spanish fleet in the Red sea. Unfortunately for the plans of the Madrid ministry, it deferred buying the coal until the question whether Camara's ships would succeed in getting through the canal had been settled.

Meanwhile this government heard of the bargain with the colliers and made a proposition for the purchase of the coal on them. As spot cash was better than Spanish promises, the offer was accepted and the coal now belongs to the United States. It is the intention to hold it in the Red Sea for the use of Commodore Watson's squadron when it passes through the Suez Canal on its chase after Camara. Agents of this government are buying coal and other supplies at places along the route to the Philippines and wherever bids are made by Spanish agents better terms will be offered by those representing the United States, so that Camara will have a pretty hard time making his voyage at a fair rate of speed, and will perhaps be obliged to delay for some time until colliers sent from Spain overtake him.

Jake Rowe in a Smash-up.

Mr. J. E. Rowe and wife had a narrow escape yesterday from serious injury by the running away of their buggy horse and the total wreck of the vehicle. They were descending a steep hill near Centertown, in Ohio county, when the harness broke and the horse ran for some distance, overturning the vehicle and throwing both occupants violently to the ground. Beyond a few bad bruises and a severe nervous shock, neither were seriously hurt.—Owensboro Messenger.

To Gen. King's Brigade.

In a letter to relatives in this city, says the Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle, Col. Childers states that the First Tennessee has been assigned to the brigade of Gen. Chas. King, better known as Capt. Chas. King, author of many delightful army stories. They expect to leave San Francisco for Manila in about two weeks.

FIGHTING CONTINUES.

General Engagement Between the Entire Land and Naval Forces on Both Sides
==20,000 Americans and 5,000 Cubans in the Fight.

Washington, July 1.—(Special.)—The war department has received the following telegram:

Near Sevilla, July 1.—An action is now going on. The firing at this hour is only light and desultory. It began on the right near Coney by Gen. Lawton's division. He will move on the northeast part of Santiago. Will keep you advised of the progress of the fight.

Washington, July 1.—Special.—One o'clock dispatch from Col. Allen, of the Signal corps:

Fighting at this hour is now going on furiously. Heavy batteries are firing on both sides and the battle is raging with increasing fierceness. Admiral Cervera's fleet in the harbor is taking part in the fight and his guns are firing on our troops.

A number of Americans and Cubans wounded in the battle have already been brought back from the front. Admiral Sampson is co-operating with the land forces and is firing on Morro Castle. The Vesuvius is using her dynamite guns to throw "earthquakes" into the enemy and is doing fearful execution. The engagement is general all along the line and has been since seven o'clock. Troops are engaged from near Morro to a point back of the city. The fighting still continues.

Washington, July 1.—(Special.)—The battle now in progress is a general assault by land and sea. It began this morning at seven o'clock. Gen. Lawton advanced and after a hot fight occupied Cabana, a suburb of Santiago, at 1 o'clock p. m. Firing still continues fiercely along the line.

While Shafter's forces have surrounded the city, Sampson has bombarded the remaining forts at the mouth of the harbor.

The Cubans are fighting with great gallantry and are in the thickest part of the battle. Nine more Cubans wounded have just been brought back.

Telegraphic and telephone connections have been established from the camps to the cable station held by the American ships. The battle has now been raging for eight hours and the fighting is still strong and furious. The Americans hold advanced positions.

Santiago, July 1.—(Special.)—Gen. Shafter is in personal command of the troops investing the city. He arrived yesterday mounted on a large bay horse. The imposing figure of the bulky general on the back of the huge animal created a great impression upon the men and attracted thousands of soldiers and Cubans to the beach to get the close view of him.

Barbed wire fences, in which the Spaniards appear to place great reliance as a means of defense, guard the entrenchments on the land side of the city. The openings in these barriers number six, and each of them is guarded by a strong force of Spanish troops.

Gen. Linars, the Spanish commander, appears to think that his barbed wire barriers will hold the Americans in check, while his guns pour a withering fire into their ranks and smash the lines. These fences have been used with greater or less effect against the half-naked Cuban insurgents, but there is a surprise in store for Gen. Linars when he expects them to hold back the advance of the Americans.

These fences will be destroyed in a very few minutes. The Americans knew of the use of barbed wire by the Spaniards and the invading army is well supplied with strong wire cutters, which will make short work of the wire barriers.

Camara Starts Through.

Madrid, July 1.—(Special.)—A dispatch reports that Camara's fleet has left Port Said, Egypt, and is passing through the Suez Canal.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,
HENRY D. ALLEN,
OF UNION COUNTY.

Maybe the next great tide which sweeps from the South will bring to our ears the clash of resounding arms."

We don't hear much about the rainy season in Cuba. Perhaps the weather clerk is on the side of the invaders.

Mr. W. T. Fowler's announcement as a Republican candidate for Congress has appeared in the Republican papers of the district.

Parties owing this office as much as $100 may take out the two cents for the stamp when sending a check.

Gov. Johnson, of Alabama, declined to call the election to fill the seat of Gen. Jo Wheeler in Congress. The General still holds on.

The office of Chief Deputy Marshal under Marshal James, filled by Dr. Hunter's son, has been abolished and the young man has been suddenly returned to private life. The salary was $2,500.

Superintendent Davidson says the difference between 82,048, the number of children reported in Louisville last year and 55,910, the number taken under census completed last night, will make $65,000 less for Louisville from the State.

The Louisville Times says: "There is no place in Louisville schools for married teachers now. They will have to depend upon their husbands for support. At the meeting of the board last night four married teachers were dropped and their places filled by Normal School girls."

The war revenue bill becomes effective to-day and stamps must go on pretty much everything now except babies. In order that none of the KENTUCKIAN's beloved patrons may have to go to jail, we again publish to-day, for the tenth time, some of the leading provisions of the law.

Mr. Clardy will retire from office with this plaudit of "well done" from those who elected him. "Resolved"—That we heartily endorse the honesty, industry, capacity and democracy of our retiring congressman, Hon. John D. Clardy, of the county of Christian, and tender him our sincere thanks for his earnest efforts in behalf of his people and the party.

From present indications a rail-way passenger war effecting the whole country may soon be in progress. Rates in the territory west of Chicago have been demoralized for some time in consequence of the fight between the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Canadian Pacific. The trouble extended eastward. A special committee has been named to strengthen the Joint Traffic Association agreement.

The list of newspapermen, women and children, nurses reported in yesterday's Louisville papers shows about 175 in attendance at Cincinnati and ready to set sail to-day for Walkerville. It is to be hoped that Editor Newlon, if he is in the crowd, will run afoul of the pugnacious Spaniard, Lieut. Carranza, while in Canada. Bro. Newlon has been appointed for two months at not being commissioned to kill Spaniards and Carranza would be a good one to begin on.

John Crittenden Watson, who is to take a battleship run over to Spain, is Kentuckian 56 years old. He served as lieutenant in the civil war, took part in the bombardment and passage of Forts Jackson and St. Philip and the Chalmette batteries in 1862. He was on the vessel that ran the Vicksburg batteries, and was in the battle of Mobile Bay in 1864, when he was wounded by a fragment of a shell. He was promoted to captain in 1877, and has done duty in the European and Asiatic squadrons. Like all true Kentuckians, he knows about pretty women, fast horses and a whole lot more.

The city treasury has been cleaned out so often that it has nothing for free baths.

It appears that letting slip the dogs of war has reduced the size of "grrowers."

Unhappily the Busch Volunteers have no opportunity to go after the Spanish bushwackers.

A book from Joseph Leiter on "What I Know About Farming" would very much outsell Mr. Greeley's celebrated work.

From the bulk of the Congressional Record it might be inferred that the Windward Passage had been transferred to Congress.

A thief who stole a suit of clothes Wednesday morning was arrested, tried and sentenced in two hours. Had he embezzled a million his conviction would probably have taken two years.

The Czar has suspended from office the Russian General who stole the funds provided for the relief of the famine-stricken peasantry. Such an officer should have been suspended from something else than his office.

Col. Butler's employees must be more or less careless if they pick up flat-irons with their garbage. However, it is clear that housekeepers have in many instances taken advantage of Col. Butler's well-known philanthropy and imposed upon him with tin cans, old crockery and almost everything else that is not garbage. His losses every year must be very large.

The New York Ledger celebrates the Glorious Fourth by coming out in red, white and blue cover, the subject being an Old-Time Flag Raising, a spirited country scene of the general training day of half a century ago. The old-time dress, the life and drum of the local musicians, the militia drawn up to salute the flag, the crowded porch of the country tavern, make a spectacle that is correct in point of historical accuracy, and both interesting and picturesque. This number of the Ledger is full of patriotic reading matter. Some of the titles calling upon great events of the Revolution, such as "Paul Jones' Great Victory," "The Drummer Boy of '70," and "Captain Molly, the Heroine of Monmouth." Other titles are full of suggestion of the great interest taken by our people in the present war, of which the Ledger is printing admirably illustrated articles, making it a paper for the times and to come.

Capt. A. K. Capron, one of Roosevelt's rough riders, who was killed by the Spaniards in the recent battle at Sevilla, is a nephew of Mr. Kissam, of Owensboro. Capt. Capron fell with his face to the foe and his dying words were "Never mind me, boys, go on and fight."

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Resolutions Adopted at the Henderson Convention.

RESOLVED—That we the Democrats of the Second Congressional District of Kentucky, in convention assembled, hereby reaffirm the principles of the Democratic party as set forth in the platform adopted by the National Democratic Convention held in Chicago in the year 1896.

2 RESOLVED—That we heartily endorse the honesty, industry, capacity and democracy of our retiring Congressman, Hon. John D. Clardy, of the county of Christian, and tender him our sincere thanks for his earnest effort in behalf of the people and the party.

3 RESOLVED—That we reaffirm the traditional adherence of the Democratic party to the Monroe Doctrine, and express our unqualified opposition to the annexation of Hawaii, or any of the Spanish possessions that may come to us as a result of conquest.

4 Resolution—That we recall with pride the early espousal and united and persistent support by our Democratic Senators and Representatives in Congress, of the war for the liberation of Cuba.

5 Resolved—That we send greeting to our soldiers and sailors who have gone to fight the battles of their country and congratulate them upon their deeds of heroism, and the lustre they have added to the flag of their country.

Joke on Calloway.

A drummer holding a permit to ride in on "Con." Sam Singers' freight train the other day related the following conversation he had with a Calloway county backwoodsman. He was doing the country stores and stopped his team at the farmer's cabin for water. He asked:

"Whose house?"
"Noggs."
"What's it built of?"
"Logs."
"Any neighbors?"
"Frogs."
"What's the soil?"
"Bogs."
"The climate?"
"Frogs."
"What do you eat?"
"Hogs."
"How do you catch them?"
"Dogs."
"And then I drove on," said the drummer.—Paducah News.

WITHOUT WARNING

Came the Death Summons to Mr. John Fulcher.

Was Sitting in a Chair When the Vital Chord Was Suddenly Snapped.

John Fulcher, a bold and wealthy citizen, of Fairview, died very suddenly yesterday at his home in the country. He was sitting in a chair when without warning he fell over and expired without a struggle. Death came so suddenly that it may be said that he literally dropped dead.

Mr. Fulcher was a very old man, not far from 80 years of age. He was wealthy and owned some fine farms in the vicinity of Fairview and also much other valuable property.

He was a married man but without children and his only heirs will be his aged wife, his brother Mr. Alex Fulcher, and other relatives.

Several years ago he set apart one fine farm to become the property of his brother at his death and bequeathed it to him upon that condition.

Charge Not Sustained.

At the examining trial of Garfield Tandy, col., this morning, before Esq. W. L. Barker, the charge of breaking open a meat house was not sustained and the case was, therefore dismissed. Tandy was fined $5 and cost, on a charge of breach of the peace. The cash, $16, was for the coming and the negro was discharged from custody.

More than 200 dogs have been killed in Owensboro under the dog-poisoning ordinance.

THE NEW WARDENS.

Eph Lillard Gets One Place and Henry Smith the Other.

Other Officers to Be Elected Soon
—Representatives Are Not in It.

Frankfort, Ky., July 1.—(Special)—The prison commissioners to-night elected Col. Eph Lillard, of Jessamine county, warden of the Frankfort penitentiary; Col. Jarvis Stone, of Spencer county, was chosen clerk, and Henry Smith, of Bowling Green, was made warden at Eddyville. The other officers will not be elected for several days yet.

The commissioners announced officially that the applications of all members of the legislature for places will be turned down, as such persons are held to be ineligible.

Col. Eph Lillard, the new warden of the Frankfort penitentiary, was backed by ex-Senator Blackburn as a reward for his services, along with those of Col. Jack Chin, of the Hunter-Blackburn senatorial fight.

HERE AND THERE.

WANTED—To buy a load of Clover Hay, apply at this office.

Circuit Court will adjourn to-morrow until September.

July starts in with weather warm enough for all ordinary purposes.

The hum of the thresher is now heard abroad in the land.

Rev. S. N. Vail wishes to sell his fine family mare, with buggy, will dispose of her at a bargain. Perfectly safe for a lady to drive.

An infant son of Miles McKnight, col., who lives near Beverly, died Thursday afternoon.

Mr. W. C. Wright had a new honor bestowed upon him this morning. A baby girl that arrived as an addition to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Callard caused Mr. Wright to become a grandfather.

Yesterday while W. E. Hunt, a planter living in the Fourth district of the country was cleaning a revolver he did not know was loaded, the weapon was accidentally discharged, and he received a severe wound in his left leg. The bullet entered just above his knee, but no bone was fractured and unless complications arise, the wound is not considered dangerous by his attending physician.—Thursday's Clarksville Times.

The tobacco Board of Trade met Monday morning. W. H. Carsey and Thos. Gibon were elected members of the Appeals Committee to succeed W. B. Anderson and Ed R. Tandy resigned. An invitation from the Hopkinsville Board of Trade to attend a Fourth of July picnic was accepted. The use of paris green upon tobacco plants as a vermicide was condemned by resolution. A proposition to take a two weeks' holiday in July was defeated.—Clarksville Journal.

J. B. Foley & Co. will receive three fine traps the first of next week, which will be in rubber tires. This trap promises to be the finest thing on the streets of Hopkinsville. Those who have bought with the promise that they will have the finest rig in town, will feel like they have been somewhat misled when they see our new Snow Queen, which will make its appearance soon. Look out, you don't wish you had waited, when you see it. We will also have some other fine traps in rubber tires in all colors and styles. Come and see us. No. 108 Main street.

Pastor W. B. Copass, Los Angeles, Cal., has resigned. He had an important charge and has accomplished an excellent work. The Baptist city and state organizations have heaped honors upon this brilliant young brother, but physicians have decided that Mrs. Copass cannot stand that climate. We would rejoice to see him back in Kentucky.—Baptist Argus. Mr. Copass married a former Hopkinsville girl, a daughter of Prof. A. F. Williams, now of Clinton.

INCREASE IN STAMP SALES.

The sale of stamps at the local postoffice during the fiscal year, last evening, shows an increase of 2 per cent over that of the previous year.

The Sick List.

Mr. W. B. Lander is again very ill and confined to his bed.

Mr. John P. Burnett is on the sick list this week.

Miss Ophelia Payne is quite ill at her home on South Main.

WANTS A NEW TRIAL.

The jury in the Circuit Court case of W. T. Bonte vs. New Era Printing and Publishing Company rendered a decision in favor of the defendants. The plaintiff entered a motion for a new trial.
